ASCG provides total training solution for British Airways Subsidiary OpenSkies

Active Aviation Training, part of global training provider Active Solutions Consulting Group, were awarded a contract to work closely with OpenSkies – the British Airways subsidiary – to deliver SEP, First Aid, Security, Dangerous Goods and CRM Training for cabin crew and flight crew from inception of the airline in 2008.

ASCG's unbeatable approach to customer services has provided OpenSkies with a total training solution including the design of training materials, provision of qualified Instructors, booking of training facilities and arranging all transportation requirements.

ASCG's busy Operations Department, led by Head of Operations Matthew Lumbers, worked closely with both the Cabin Services and Training Divisions of Openskies to ensure that the US based crew received the highest level of training and ancillary support during their stay in the UK.

Being a global provider of training, ASCG also positioned Instructors in the US to assist with Openskies' ongoing training requirement.
