ASCG celebrates training delivery in 30 countries worldwide

ASCG is celebrating this month (November 2009) its latest achievement of now having offered its services in 30 worldwide countries. This was achieved as a result of training recently delivered in Kazakhstan.

ASCG's training and consultancy services are utilised by airlines from around the world and historically the company has been involved in projects with airlines in 6 continents. The aviation division (Active Aviation Training and Consultancy) specialises in offering cost effective solutions and understanding that the need to add value to training services whilst maintaining low fees is an essential aspect of what attracts its airline customers.

New training courses and services have been released to mark this occasion which includes enhanced Instructor initial and recurrent programmes, a range of audits for operators wishing to identify areas for operational improvements. ASCG is also nearing completion on the required approvals to become an approved organisation in the training and issue of the European EU OPS Cabin Crew Attestation and this will be launched under a joint venture marking our fifth group brand "Active Plane Training".

Cabin Crew and Flight Crew training remains the focus of the services offered by the Group with a marked increase in demand for additional ancillary services including audits, management and organisational development projects and the creation of training materials and manuals for airlines.
